Spring is Here!

It's time to open up those windows and shake out the dust in our rugs. While you are focused on brightening up your home with a good spring cleaning, don't forget to pay some extra attention to your garage door. If the winter cold left your joints feeling old and achy, chances are your garage door is in the same shape from the stress of operation in the cold temps.

According to a National Consumer Survey, 7 out of 10 homeowners use their garage as the primary entrance to their home, so keeping the garage door and opener in top condition is a priority to prevent maintenance issues as a result of those bitter cold months. We have a team of professionals to help keep your garage door and opener in tip-top shape with a Spring Seasonal Tune Up.
